Issue 5 Term 4: October 2020

“Curious Creatures, Wild Minds”

Book Week!

With the many events that had to be cancelled or postponed this year, how lucky are we to still get to celebrate the magic of Book Week! A big thank you to the hard work of the parents who spent hours putting together fabulous costumes for our children. Not to mention, all our teachers who made a special effort to dress up too!

In light of this exciting week, the theme of this issue broadly ties into all things that celebrate books. Read on to see the wonderful work our authors have been doing as their confidence in writing develops in leaps and bounds.

Chapter 1 Hedgehog Themes

BANG! Students burst through the door of 3NP and 3HS, I am woken. "Ugh" I moan, all I can hear is chatting. My parents are still asleep sooo... let me introduce myself! "Hi, I'm Jack, a hedgehog and not a sheep. I am 9 years old and live in the class of 3NP and 3HS, they have not found me yet." Jack has parents too, everyone does. Their names are Olivia and Peter, Olivia looks like a sheep, but isn't. She cares very much for me and I do too. I have a dad too, his name is Peter, well you should know that since I said their names but anyways, he looks like a turtle with spikes on it. Cool? Yeah. I go to my room to play some video games.

Olivia

I wake up from shooting noises such as pew pew or bang bang, Jack can be frustrating at times. But I'll still love him no matter what. I get my shoes and put them on. I walk to Jack's area and say "Turn the volume down please!" and he replies "Okay mum!"

By Patrick, 3HS

Back to Jack

No, my name isn't "Back to Jack" it's just Jack. So either way I turn down my volume. A lot of creatures say "How do you be a hedgehog?", I don't know why, and I'm not showing you how to be a-

Chapter 2 How to be a hedgehog

I'm a hedgehog so I know how to be one. Step one, be spiky, you need spikes. Step two, attack humans if they attack you, although it seems bad, it's their fault for attacking you, use your spikes to attack. Step three, listen to your parents, be like a slave, well not exactly a slave, just obey them. Uhh, I really don't know what else to put here. Uhm. UHHH... be cool? How DO you be cool?

Dangerous animals in the zoo

Facts page

Favourite foods: Gerald – banana, Sid – bugs, Sam and Olivia – fish, Larry - chicken.

They are best friends for about 9 years and in the zoo for 10 years now. The name of the zoo is 'The Zoo With All Animals'.

There were 5 dangerous animals in the zoo with all animals (not real place in the world) their names are Olivia the octopus, Sam the shark, Sid the snake, Larry the lion and Gerald the gorilla. They were all friends but Gerald broke the cage door open that he was in then Gerald broke Sid and Larry out Gerald almost broke Olivia and Sam out but... Gerald remembered they can't live on the land. So Gerald got a huge bath tub and filled it with water and put Sam and Olivia in the bath tub and they made the zoo messy, scared people out of the zoo and they... escaped the zoo! then everyone said "oh no the zoo is messy!" everyone screamed. Then Gerald, Larry, Sid, Sam and Olivia. Olivia started to think about what they did to the zoo "we have made the zoo messy" quietly said Olivia. So they... went back to the zoo and helped everyone clean up the zoo then the zookeeper gave all of them their favourite foods and treats. THE END

The mysterious slime

"Here is the map. It will lead you to the place where to find it. Goodbye" said Thora west. "Take good care of it" "yes" said Beatrix Leabu. "In fact I will go look for it right now. What is the name of the slime?" said Beatrix "I cannot tell you yet. I will tell you the name once you find it" "Time to go find that slime!" You say in your loudest voice. Then you go head of ready with some water to the place with a special key to. The place where the slime is and use the key on the door and adventure around for a while. You are excited and nervous at the same time. You start to search far and wide now and see the shimmering of the slime so you go collect it and bring it home and meet Thora west and she says "You found the slime. The slimes name is mosaic slime. It is one of the most rarest slimes ever.

EAT YOUR DINNER!! My monster mum explained. YOU EAT EVERYTHING BUT YOU SAY NOT TO SLIME?! My monster mum explained again. I was getting into my monster ripped pyjamas and went to bed. In the morning my big sharp teeth yawned as loud as a screaming cockatoo. I brushed my small tiny hair, I put on my green tie, my white stained t-shirt and some weird shorts. I took a shower, then I packed my bag and waited for the monster bus to arrive. BEEP BEEP!! The monster bus honked the horn to let me know it was here. I scratched my big brown nose because it was itchy... At school my green eyes glared at the school, it was beautiful! I saw Monster Minnie waiting for me on the outside of the school. It was monster o'clock (9:00) I headed into Monster Brown's chemistry class, it was monsterefic! It was masterday (Monday) I grabbed my monsterbake book for monsterbake class, my silver horns jiggled I was monster nervous... BANG! Huh? The pizza exploded! CRASH! The items broke and crashed, OH NO! Minnie got hurt from the pan! WHAT WAS THAT FOR GEORGE!? Minnie crackled. I said sorry, she accepted! But wait before I go, I need to say something: DID YOU HEAR ABOUT BOOK WEEK 2020, THERE ARE CURIOUS CREATURES AND WILD MINDS!! GO CHECK IT OUT!! Also be careful with items so that people don't get hurt! Amazing creatures and wild minds to check out go ahead we welcome you! Love your enemies! Bye monsters!

The boy that had a magic friend Curious creatures and wild minds 2020 chapter one homework

Oh no my homework its ruined I need to talk to my imaginary friend I cannot see her she said that I will not be here anymore but I thought it was a joke how do I get her back. without her I will have know one to Teach me the answers. Then the next day I told my mum that I want to leave the school and she said no and I was like what why. My imaginary Friend is a unicorn she said that homework is important than anything and her name is Zoe. So I said fine I will go to school when I went I got a F+ for English and maths. And I thought Zoe had gone and be another Imaginary friend for someone else. So I ask one of my friends Zac and he is like yea for my Bro and I was like thanks. So he helped me with every single homework the day after he told the teacher he told me to do his homework and I said yes to be a good friend and it was to hard me. And the teacher said he will have detention. The teacher came up to me and said detention it was the worst day of my life I had double detention and extra homework. Detention was like being in a cell I had know one to help me and know food I was so hungry I wanted the best food in the world like a rainbow cake and sweets and candys all types of food from around the world. Like macaroons pasta fish meat And many more. Know I hate school so bad know I want to stop having homework. My friends are to popular know I always cry I'm like a nerd A bit know and it is not cool no at all. And my teacher calls me lame like every day and I do not like it people think I am bad but that's not true not at all never in my life. Zac thinks I am the worst and silly and rude and I hate him for that. I told my mum to call his mum and tell him to stop calling me names. When my mum called she said your son has called my son names and being rude to him and Zac mum said your son told him to do his homework and my son was very tired from all that hard work for nothing.

By Naomi, 3NP

Chapter two detention

I could not handle the homework so I had to tell my parents to do it for me. And they said ok so I said listen or else you have to take me where ever I want. And they said fine so I still wanted Zoe but she hates me know. And I still want her so BADLY. So I said to all of my classmates to tell lots of people about my sad life and I would become popular. So it worked I became popular everyone liked me so much they came to my home. Everyday it came true. I got a phone and a good life but it will be better with Zoe. The unicorn. But I want Zoe so bad I shouted her name “ZOE ZOE ZOE” really loud. So loud you could hear it from the other side of the world. I ran into my bedroom and I was really tired and sleepy after from detention. I listened to my favourite playlist with all of the top hits from 2020. When my mum said dinner is ready I ran into the room with lots of food. Like chicken which is my favs of all time. And my friends came over for a sleepover after dinner we were sinning And dancing all night on till we went fast asleep. And my mum closed the door. And went on her phone with my dad and they went asleep after looking at my mums phone. We were eating snacks at the morning and went to school and at lunch time we were playing hide and seek. But if Zoe was here it would be more fun and better but my friends are to kind brave and I am nothing I am the worst friend in the world. But is that true Zac is a bit kind to me but still stares at me. And that’s okay I guess if he keeps on doing this and saying I am lame I will make him have detention and a lot of homework for ever and that will be “fun fun fun” .

(Mischievous Meals and Skiving Snackboxes)

“Add some Tellesentia, and...” BANG! A thing that looked like half of a yellow candy pastille popped up on the table. Christina and Justin high-fived. Christina and Justin Cloud were brother and sister, and they lived with their mum, Celeste Cloud. They were working in their hidden lab. “A hint of Chrystalia, a dash of grounded sunflower seeds, evenly sprinkle some pixie dust...” RING RING! Christina hurried over to the telephone and took the call. “Hello! This is Christina Cloud, founder of Mischievous Meals and Skiving Snackboxes! We sell snackboxes that can make you sick, and then instantly make you better, so you can break out of a boring math or history class easily! How can I help you?" They had bought their own telephone, because if they just used the family telephone, their mum would answer the call! If their mum found out about their business, Christina and Justin knew there would be VERY bad consequences. "And...you want two snackboxes? That means you get a free pair of Live Listener Earrings! If you drop the special microphone in that room, and wear the earrings, you can hear everything that's going on in that room! Thank you!" Christina hung up. "Hey, Raven!" Christina whisper-yelled as she slipped a pair of Live Listener Earrings into a Skiving Snackbox and gave it to Raven – her pet owl, who picked it up in her beak. "Deliver this to..." Christina looked at Justin. "...199 Blair Street, Tray Gardens." Justin said. Raven flew out the open window. Justin gave some flyers to Robin, his pet owl. Robin scooped up the flyers in his beak and followed Raven out the window. BANG! Christina looked back at Justin. He had made the other half of the candy pastille, the Puking Pastille. But instead of a yellow half, it was a green half. Their candy was colour coded. If you ate the red half of the Nosebleed Nougat, your nose would start bleeding non-stop, and you would be rushed out of the class. Then you would eat the green half, which would restore you to full health, so you can spend your time doing whatever you want instead of having to have it dedicated to an hour of boredom. Justin took a dead Bratch out of his pocket. A Bratch was an animal that looked like a furry black pom-pom with bat wings. They would swarm your curtains if you haven't cleaned them in a while, and if you threatened and hurt them in any way, they would spray you with poisonous venom, but you could recover by drinking some antidote. If you spray Bratchcide at them, they die. "JUSTIN! WHEN DID YOU GET ONE OF THOSE DISGUSTING CREATURES!" Christina yelled in surprise. "I was thinking we could experiment with them and their venom for our sweets. Calm down." Justin said. "Anyway, it's pretty late, so I think we should get to bed." But just as they were heading out the door, their mum walked in. "Justin? Christina, what are you- wait a minute, what's this? OH, YOU ARE IN BIG TROUBLE!"

By Rowena, 3NP

All Animals Are Invited To A Party

“Ding Dong”, “the door rang hello, who are you and who is that next to you” “oh I am a kola and this is my friend lion who are you”, “oh me, I’m Vanessa and I’m a human”. After talking for 4 mins both of the curious creatures bounded in “WOW I never saw an underground base like this” said the worm that just came in “WOW this is the first time I ever seen a cage with a bed”. “Hello hello” said a creepy dragon and a cute unicorn “ what are you guys doing here” said both of the animals that came in first “who are you guys” Vanessa said who was a human. Then the cute unicorn called all her friends for a fun party. Oh no they actually came, I tried to push them out but they were too strong except the worms and spiders and other insects that are not strong but some survived and kept partying. After like an hour all the strong animals left like the dinosaurs and the crocodiles. But not the ants, I tried to get them out but they wouldn’t because they were super curious about the big and clean house. The house was full of ants but a couple left because they were done being curious about the big and clean house. “Oh no” all the ants were doing number 2 AND NUMBER 1! So I kicked them out with a big bat ... BANG!!!!!! But there was only the king and the queen so I got the bat and I used my feet to kick them out and I use the bat to hit the head. “Yes we go them out and WHY DID I LET THEM IN”!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

By Francesca, 4NB

Year 4

Why is the leaning tower of pisa leaning?

Why is the leaning tower of pisa leaning and why is it so dangerous to move it. The reason why the leaning tower of pisa is leaning is because of the soft ground. When the builders got to the third story it started to leaning and to move the soil it would be to dangerous so they left it so it didn't fall over and break other buildings next to it or close to it.

😊 Awesome, Amazing Animals of Australia 😊

Australia is known for its really cute, cool and awesome animals. One of favourite animals is a kangaroo, kangaroos love to hop around but sometimes they like to walk on all 4 of their legs. Another one of Australia's favourite animals is a koala, koalas love to sleep and eat eucalyptus leaves. These animals and other Australian animals help make a great place! 😊

Koalas

Here in Australia people call koalas 'koala bears' even though they're not even a type of bear. A koala is actually an animal with big furry grey ears, a cute little black nose, a dark grey body with brighter grey on its belly and sometimes even a bit of brown. A koala is an herbivore so that means they eat plants and vegetables. Koalas also love to eat eucalyptus leaves but did you know since they eat eucalyptus leaves they don't have to drink water since they get enough moisture from them. But sometimes they still drink water. Koalas live in rainforests but some koalas like to stay in eucalyptus leaves so it's easier to sleep and munch on yummy eucalyptus leaves. The koalas live in the rainforests are starting to lose their homes because of people cutting down trees. Koalas love to sleep so most koalas sleep 19 hours a day which is more than half a day. Sadly, here in Australia you aren't allowed to have a koala as a pet because its illegal. Did you know they communicate by making really weird noises!

Black Swans

A black swan is a black bird with a red beak, red eyes, long neck and small little feet that help it paddle when they swim in the water.

Black swans are herbivores so that means they eat some types of vegetables, insects and algae from under the water.

Black swans live in lakes, rivers and swamps of Western Australia. Black swans like to travel at night by flying or swimming to different lakes, rivers and swamps.

Did you know that male black swans grow larger than female black swans. Black swans in the wild live up to 10-15 years but if they are being protected and looked after they could live they could live up to 30-40 years. A black swan is just like any other bird that fly's but it swims in lakes and they can't fly to high.

Fact File - Harpooner

By Bryant

What is a Harpooner?

A Harpooner is someone who uses a Harpoon or Harpoon Gun to hunt down whales. Harpooning or whaling is illegal in some countries, but people still do whaling in other countries like; Japan, Norway and Iceland are the most known for whaling or Harpooning.

Is Harpooning Illegal?

In fact it isn't illegal unless it is an advertisement about. People do Harpoon whales but if they do it on camera it will get banned immediately. Whaling for money was banned in 1986. But they still did sell Whale meat or other Whale products on the market.

Different Types of Harpoons

The 2 main types of harpoons are the same but used different. The first one is a regular harpoon. Its a piece of wood with a stone or smelted ore strapped with a thick rope around it. When the strapped around it they got another rope and connected to the wood. It's like a spear but you can keep using the same one. Because of the rope.

About the other types of harpoons the have different names because of the blade. From one of the first harpoons they were copper.

The second type of harpoon is a Harpoon Gun. Its similar to the harpoon but the stick is like a metal getting shot out of a gun and the rope is longer and can shoot further away from regular harpoons.

Sunfishes.

Sunfishes are a type of fish that are pretty large for a fish and sometimes are mistaken for sharks.

Sunfishes choice of food are jellyfish, small fish, huge amounts of zooplankton which is a like a small yabby with no pinches and they're very small and are clear and they also eat algae.

Sunfish are very curious sea animals but they're harmless to humans/divers/swimmers but are Also very curious so they will approach divers and start surrounding them due to how curious Sunfish are.

You will have a rare sight of seeing a Sunfish in real life but near the coast of Australia, people say that Sunfish have been mostly seen at Perth and at Ningaloo Reef, and also in harbours in Darwin and Sydney. Sunfish normally live at tropical and temperate water areas.

Ningaloo Reef is a reef located in Western Australia which is a very tropical sea area and a living home to tons of sea animals.

Sunfishes appearance for their skin its a light grey and they have a large fin and small eyes with weird looking teeth.

For an adult Sunfish they normally weight about 1,000kg and for an average adult they're normally the length of 1.8m.

Sunfish also lay many eggs and probably lay more eggs than any other sea animal.

Although sunfish also have very weird looking teeth to capture their prey and according to the Polynesian legend if u eat a Sunfish its bad luck in their legend. Sunfish are named after a milestone and in German they're called "swimming heads".

According to research Sunfish are eaten by Sea lions, Killer whales, and large sharks. But in California Sea lions are mostly mostly known for biting off small ocean Sunfishes and play with their fins like frisbees.

A milestone is like a stone that's set up beside a road to mark/measure the distance in miles to like a particular place they wanna go to for example like "For me it takes 160 milestones to get me to the city!".

Lastly Sunfish live at the dept of 160-650ft down the ocean which in cm is 4876.8cm - 19812cm.

There is, however, one thing that crushes a germ's sweet cupcake dream — Soap. Germs absolutely, positively, do NOT like soap.

At germ school, germs learn how to be germy. The teacher asks questions like, "Why are hands the very best place for germs to be?"

That's right. Eyes, noses and mouths are like open doors for germs. And once they get in, it's time for a bunch of energy cupcakes —

ENERGY CUPCAKE

You're probably thinking, what are energy cupcakes?

Well, they're not real cupcakes, you see, germs survive in our bodies by gobbling up our energy. And when hungry germs see a lot of energy, it looks like cupcakes - energy cupcakes.

Once the germs finally settle down, they reflect on the importance of bang on hands.

Lilly mum calmly said "its lunch time" Lilly then had eaten yummy food made by her mum she then had went outside and saw a blue furry rabbit holding an orange carrot in his hand that had gone thru a portal in a giant sun flower lily had looked confused and rubbed her head and thought to herself. What happen if I hold a carrot and went thru then sunflower? But Lilly knew if she was gone her mother would be really upset with her and think that she's gone. But lily had smirked and got a carrot from her garden outside she picked a fresh orange carrot. And then walked to the sunflower that was a portal and took a berth and jumped on the sunflower... But then she didn't even go in the sunflower portal she was shocked with shame so then this random cute dog magically talked and popped up right Infront of her and demanded to stop adamantly because as once lily has gone into the portal it will be hard to find a way to get out. But of course, lily didn't care and just went upstairs into her bedroom and thought why isn't it working? ## Initial Mission

Chapter 1: The Commander

BOOM! CRASH! BANG! Whoosh... A cold wind blew across the battlefield. People lay injured on the icy ground. Voices were echoing over the land. There was a bright light... then shadowed darkness. "OI! Wake up! We've got business to do!" shouted a voice. "Oh... Johnny." replied Rex. "What were you thinking, Rex?!" yelled Johnny. "That kamikaze attack... MADNESS! Most of our men have been captured now, all because of you!" Rex sat on the bed. "But how do we know they're captured? Maybe they're hiding behind the icebergs?" Johnny's tone suddenly went from furious, to almost grieving. "Listen... they can't survive a few days out there. We have most of the rations at base... but... them..." Johnny sighed. "They only have the rations in their emergency pack. The rations were only meant to last for a day, until the men were found by a rescue team." "Then what are we waiting for?" asked Rex. "Let's get them!" "No." Johnny replied. "We don't have enough men to make one." Rex stood up and started walking towards the battlefield. "Then I'm going alone."

Chapter 2: The Search

"How long has it been?" Rex thought to himself. "After I left the comfort of the base?" Rex sighed. "What's Johnny doing now?" He continued to mutter. "Probably helping care for the injured soldiers." Rex stopped. In the corner of his eye, he saw something. A piece of paper. It glided slowly, but gracefully towards him. It landed softly on the ground. He picked it up. The piece of paper was actually a letter.

*"If you want to see your men again, go north-west to the curved iceberg.
Behind it is where my refuge is,
and where your men are residing."*

Rex put the letter in his backpack. "This may be a trap, but I have to go there." he thought. "I need my men back."
And so, he grabbed his compass, and started his journey towards the iceberg.

Chapter 3: The Message

Johnny growled. "Why would he go alone?! That simpleton!" A soldier walked in. "Sir, we have received a broadcast via radio." Johnny walked towards the opposite room. "Your- bzz m- bzz are a- bzz t- bzz i- bzz - berg- bzz." crackled the voice. "What did you get from that?" asked Johnny. "Sir, we didn't get much, but I think it says that your men are an iceberg." replied the technician. "Are an iceberg?! What do you think I am?! A fool?!" shouted Johnny. "There was too much interference, sir. It was hard to decipher." another technician replied. Johnny suddenly had an idea. "What's the nearest iceberg?" he asked. "North-west. It's a curved one." replied a soldier. "Then pack some supplies." Johnny commanded. "We are finding our men."

Chapter 4: The Maestro

Rex opened the doors slowly. CREAK! The sound made him shudder. He walked inside. The place looked a bit deserted. "Hello!" boomed a voice. "Welcome to my humble abode!" Rex heard footsteps coming from below the ground. "What?" he thought. "That can't be possible!" A platform rose in front of the broken down stairs, holding a strongly built silhouette. Lights shone across the room, blinding Rex, like when you see the sun after waking up. After he got used to the lights, he saw the strongly built figure in its full glory. A strong, reinforced suit of armour, with glowing green markings all over it. A bearded face, orange hair in a pompadour hairstyle, and brown eyes. He glared at Rex. "I am the Maestro, and you will be coming with me."

By Hong Phuc 5/6IB

Chapter 5: Memories

Johnny and his team stood in front of the open doors. "Sir, should we go inside, or wait?" asked one of his men. "Go inside." replied Johnny sternly. They walked inside the building. "It looks deserted, sir. Maybe we were wrong." insisted the scout, fearing for his life. "Nonsense!" yelled Johnny. "We will find our men!" Johnny took a few more steps, until stopping. "It... can't be..." he thought. "I remember..." Memories started flooding into Johnny's brain. The Maestro came and starting picking Johnny's team off one by one. His team shouted and screamed for him to help them... but help was never given... And Johnny knew about his true purpose.

Chapter 6: The Clones

"Verification process: Checking implant... Clone XQ-2856 – nicknamed "Johnny". Verification complete. Welcome, "Johnny"." said a machine. "Ah... The clone has discovered his true purpose, I see." smiled the Maestro. "How may I serve you, master?" asked Johnny in a monotone voice. "Neutralise the Commander, codename "Rex"." replied the Maestro. "At your service, General Rick." retorted Johnny. "Johnny?" shouted Rex. "Johnny?" "JOHNNY!" he screamed. "WHERE ARE YOU?! I HEARD YOU COME INSIDE WITH YOUR MEN!" There was no response. "Hello, Rex." shouted a familiar voice. "Johnny?" asked Rex. "Is that you?" Looking behind Johnny, he saw the Maestro walking towards him. "Johnny? JOHNNY! It's him!" screamed Rex. "The Maestro! He's going to destroy us!" he shouted, louder than before. "JOHNNY, RUN!" Rex grabbed Johnny's shoulder. Johnny wouldn't budge. Rex glared at Johnny. "WHAT ARE YOU DOING?! WE NEED TO GO, NOW!" Johnny smiled. "Not so fast, Rex." snapped the Maestro. "My friend Johnny here, has found out his true purpose." he laughed. "Serving the General of the Army." Rex
