The Growing Potion

One day Emma was at her backyard with her friend Crystal. She was reading a book of spells because she and Emma's other friends like to make potions, Emma was just getting bored. When she saw a potion, it's colour was purple and it said on it with light green writing DRINK ME. So she went to it and drank it suddenly, she became so big from Crystal.

Crystal was so surprised that she called all of Emma's other friends. Myla asked me how I got so big, Emma replied that I saw this potion that was the colour purple and it said DRINK ME, so I drank it and I became so big right in front of Crystal's eyes. Angel said " We all like spells, so what about we all make a potion for Emma to drink and if we get it right Emma might turn back to normal".

First Candy made a potion. She added all of her favourite spells and her favourite colour pink. When Candy was finished the potion turned yellow. Then Candy walked up to Emma and gave her the potion. So Emma drank the potion but instead of turning back to normal she turned tiny as a baby bunny. After it was Myla's turn she added all of our favourite colours in her potion and one of her favourite spell
Which was to make a rainbow dress. When Emma drank the potion she turned in to the colour rainbow.

After Myla's turn it was..... Crystal's turn. Crystal added all of her favourite spells and all of her friends favourite colours and mixed it. When Emma drank the potion she became..... tiny as a baby bunny and she became the colour rainbow. Suddenly then Angel had a idea she said " what about we add one of our favourite spells in and our favourite colours". So all of the the girls mixed up the potion and the colours. After they gave it to Emma. Emma drank the potion and she was back to normal. After the girls played at Emma's house and ate bread and drank some rainbow lemonade that was homemade.

Year 4

The Recount of Greta Thunberg

Greta Thunberg was born on the 3rd of January 2003. Greta Thunberg was a smart girl but she refused to go to school because she didn't like education she wanted to learn about the environment. Greta learnt a lot about rubbish and what it can do to damage our land. Greta felt bad for all the animals after she watched a clip about what rubbish does that damages the Earth. After the video she cried so much at school and home. Greta cried at school and Greta stopped laughing, talking and stopped playing the piano. Greta decided to be vegan or vegetarian. Every time Greta got home from school she went straight to her golden retriever and patted it. Greta did not eat a lot of stuff every day. Greta's Mum and Dad took Greta to the doctor and checked if she was okay. The doctor told them that Greta had Asburger Syndrome and OCD. Her parents where really scared for her. Greta was interested in Global Heating so she read stuff and researched stuff that she did not understand. Greta also learnt that everyone has carbon foot print. Greta was also smart enough to know our biggest danger was not in action. Greta also learnt that there was to many gases being released and that meant the earth was warming to fast and that means the earth would basically turn into a desert.

In 2016, Greta tried to persuade her mum to stop flying planes and helicopters. It was a good sign for Greta because her mum stopped flying planes and helicopters. Greta ended up telling her parents that she wanted to skip school and wanted to focus her life on the Earth, not other stuff in school. A few years later Greta looked healthier than ever before. Greta wanted to make a protesting sign so she asked her dad to take her to a hardware store to by materials for a protesting sign. On Monday August 20th 2018, Greta got up 1 hour earlier to go to the President's house to start making her protest sign. Since that time Greta has done many interviews with many people. Greta's work all so had a giant impact on more then 2 billion children alive today. While everyone was asking Greta many questions Greta's Dad pulled Greta aside and quietly said to her "Let's go home" but Greta said back to him in a confident voice, "I want to stay and try to tell everyone that they can change the world if they do one little act."

Greta protested for 3 weeks straight. Sometimes Greta spoke to 2000 people. In January 2019 Greta spoke to people and said that she wanted them to act as if a house was on fire right now. In January 2019 she also celebrated and condemned the actions of politicians around the world. When Greta was doing a speech some law members just ignored her while she was doing her speech. Greta went on a boat to New York instead of taking a plane, to stop using a lot of gas and lower her carbon footprint. In the distance Greta saw and heard people saying "WELCOME GRETA, WELCOME GRETA." When Greta woke up in New York she smelt something that smelt really salty. Greta realised that she wasn't in her normal country she was in New York. Greta says this line to a lot of people " if you got to talk the talk that means you got to walk the walk."

In America, after Greta did a speech a lot of people were talking about climate change and global heating, she was having a real impact. Greta had a meeting with Donald Trump even though she was only 15. She was very surprised that she got to speak with Donald Trump. On the 20th of September 2019, Greta marched alongside 4 million people worldwide. Greta was very nervous to speak in front of 4 million people but she knew that she could do it. Three days later Greta went to the UN CLIMATE ACTION SUMMIT to give a big speech saying "This is all wrong, I should be back at my normal home not here, no one will forgive you if this world comes to an end." Greta says that she she's the world black and white but other people say that there is no black and white issues it's just your imagination. Some people see Greta on a bench on their lunch break and they decide to bring her some food and drinks. The most exciting news that Greta ever got was that the scientist pointed out something called the Greta effect. All the stuff that Greta has done has an giant impact on the world which had made the world a better place even though she is 17 years old.

Japan Temple (yr)1397. In Japan, it was midnight. The wolves were howling, the wind was crashing. In a very bulky mountain, lived a Assassin. In the mountain near that very Assassin, lived a Ninja. They both had bounties. They both eliminate and they both... HUNT EACHOTHER. The Assassin's name was Eric. The Ninja's was Lee. Lee always goes out into the darkness at midnight. Eric goes to assassinate at the Japan Temple. Eric always risks himself at unnecessary times. Lee usually hunts for deer and coal for his furnace, so he could eat and not starve to death. Eric is very talented at parkour and memorising places. He is also very good at Synchronize. Lee is really good at cunning and stealth. BANG! A massive mysterious noise shook the mountains and alerted the whole temple and Lee. But not Eric because he was the cause of that mysterious noise. It could've been an explosion or a gun shot. Well... maybe it was both.

Last person on earth;

Chapter 1

There is a virus spreading, and its spreading quickly, I don't know how it started but I know when it started. It all started at school, a student named Caleb had an animal on his back, I've never seen it before it looked really weird, "what is that on your back?" I asked. "I don't really know" he said, "But he looks cute, I'm calling him bob!" The animal went to bite him, "ouch!" He yelled, he got the school's whole attention, everyone stared, "stop biting me bob!" He ran out the school embarrassed. Everyone laughed, we laughed like we were in a circus with dancing clowns, the next day he went to school, he was coughing really badly, his face turned green, seriously, it looked green. A very light tinted green, then before my eyes. He fainted on the floor, I panicked, so did everyone else. Someone got the teacher, and then we got him straight to the hospital. A few hours later, it was evening. I felt really bad for him, I should visit him. I know I'm his bully but still. You could handle a bully, but when it comes to this, it's really serious when someone is dying. I decided to get dressed, I put on my glasses on and went to gacha hospital, I'm pretty sure this was the hospital he went to, I went to visit him "hello, is Caleb Ross here?" I asked, "yes he is" the front office lady said, "his room is 115" she said "okay, thank you for your time" I said walking away to the elevator. It took a while until we finally made it to floor 100, this building was really tall, nearly to the clouds. Luckily I wasn't scared of heights or I would have already fainted straight to the ground in that glass elevator. I was walking, ah yes, room 115 the door was locked, I knocked on a door, then came a nurse, "hello" I said "can I see Caleb Ross?" I said, "you may" he said, he yelled "wait!" I turned my head, "wear these" he said. He was holding a mask, the masks that cover up your whole face and have those little pipes sticking out making it safe to breathe, he was also holding a safety suit, and some very thick plastic gloves. And some blue plastic boots. "what is all this for?" I asked "The virus seems to be really deadly. And it turns out there's no cure yet" "and it spreads as soon as someone stands next to someone with the virus" I shook my head surprised, I didn't know a virus could be that deadly, other than the black virus, it's killed over half of the people on earth. So I put it on and entered the room, "Lloyd?!" He said "why are you here?!?, aren't you the person who's least thing does is care for me!?" "yeah" I said "but you know, it's not really easy to handle a bully, so is having your life in danger from a deadly virus" "thank you for visiting m-" he said coughing before he could finish his sentence, "get well soon Caleb. I got a get well soon card for you" I said holding it for him "thank you" he said grabbing it with his rotting arm. It seemed like he was green all over and really sick and poisoned. I felt really bad, I hoped for the best for him, and left the room, I took off all the clothes and supplies and gave it back to the nurse. I was going down the elevator once again, when I finally got to the bottom floor, it was dark. It was 9:30 at night, so I had to be home soon. I drove home, and slept. Sadly. Caleb didn't make it through the night. He was coughing all sick and he turned so pale and tinted green. He started coughing really badly and vomited green and bloody vomit. I cried, I know I used to hate him but he didn't deserve this. Could it possibly be the animal on his back? The next day. I spent the day with my friends in the gacha fashion mall. We were at the mall shopping for clothes. "Have you heard that Caleb died overnight yesterday night?" I said. "Ugh. I don't care, he was annoying and weird nerd anyways" my friend Lexi said "hey! That's not nice" I cried "he didn't deserve to die! Who cares if we bullied him! You can handle a bully but it's harder to handle your life in danger!" She refused to agree with me "Whatever you just like him! That's for sure!" My other friend yelled "You know what! Get a life!" I yelled "he didn't deserve this!" And I walked away furious the next day. I was walking to school. Then I saw my ex friends laying on the floor dead. I wanted to check if they were actually dead. They weren't breathing I ran down the hall way more. "more dead bodies" I thought to myself.

Everyone in here was pretty much dead. So I just checked the lockers to see if there would be anything useful but there were more dead bodies in the lockers as well. I decided to break out of the school. I didn't see much people outside. Only a few. But I saw most people at the local hospital. The next day. I went home (sorry if I already wrote this part in the story) I came home. I saw my parents dead on the floor... I cried. Little did I know. The next day. I would be the only person left... I ran downstairs. And checked for food in the fridge. There was nothing. water? A little bit. well. I usually get thirsty every five seconds. I said to myself and laughed a little (I can relate to this, I'm thirsty all the time) I drank the water. It was hot water. But good enough, there was ice in the freezer. So I put some ice in my drink. It was cold. Much better I went to bed starving. But not thirsty. The next day. No one was there when I went downstairs I checked the cupboard. There were...2 muffins. 1 uncle Toby's honeycomb yogurt bar. and....sushi. man that's my favourite. What a waste, it's better cold instead of soggy and warm and wet. Ew! It just makes me feel disgusting thinking about it leftover Kentucky fried chicken? I took the basket of chicken and I took the muffins and uncle Tobys and left the building and oh my god..dead bodies everywhere I ran to the shops to get supplies. When I entered I saw the managers head laying on the front desk. I was scared. His body was laying along the counter as well.

Chapter 2

I searched the freezer. I found: Cold water. It was still a bit cold. Popsicles and ice-cream I went to search the shopping isles I found some food. It was a bit outdated, but It was good enough. I Searched Target for some clothes. I found some. I checked my size. It fitted me! I might as well would've tried it on. I tried many clothes on. I kinda lost track of time and... well. When I was done I walked out and I saw all my clothes laying everywhere there were so many. Luckily I didn't decide to clean it up. I was walking back to my house; I was thinking to myself: I can't believe this happened. All because of an animal. Then I stopped. And paused for a minute. Then I yelled. "WHY AM I THE ONE WHO CAN'T GET THE VIRUS!?" "WHY CAN'T I GET THE VIRUS AND JUST DIE!" "I MIGHT AS WELL BE BETTER OFF IN HEAVEN OR HELL" I got on my knees and started crying. Then I forgot about getting back home. And started crying myself to sleep on the hard stone concrete floor. The next day. I woke up "what an uncomfortable night" I thought. I got up and stretched my arms and legs I yawned I was searching my backpack to eat some food I got last night for myself. I saw my teddy bear "atleast I have you mr cuddles." I said out loud "Im probably crazy from talking to my teddy bear" I was walking back home. I opened the door. "mummm!!!" I yelled "oh yeah...Im the last person..." I thought. I went upstairs I saw the giant gaming TV "oh! My old controller" "you know..." I grinned "I haven't been playing Roblox in a while" I kinda....spent a few hours in there "royale high?" I played there. I farmed some diamonds. I kinda missed my valentines halo 2020." I yawned. Okay I might be going to sleep. I can't believe I go to sleep so early, even when my parents aren't here. I slept through the night. I woke up. man! Ive been sleeping so much now, I might as well explore and look for someone else... I got up and I went downstairs. Decided to chew on some gum. I got into a random car. I drove to the forest. "No one here?" "Oh no!" I forgot my bag. That means I don't have my map! I don't even know which direction I came out of anymore! I might as well drive the car and hope for the best. no! Its out of gas! darnit. I have to go. I walked. "ahhhh! snakes!!!" I climbed up a tree. "This is not what I was expecting when your trying to survive in a forest" I think I still have an bow on me! I think I got it from my cupboard when I was still gaming when I was looking for food. I shot at the snakes. "I guess I could make this as a meal" I skinned the snake and then made a fire then cooked it. And then took a bite out of it. "not gonna lie. This tastes really good!" "I'm craving snakes now!" I just realised how weird type of food I eat- after I ate the whole thing; 'mmm! That was delicious' 'I might as well make a tree house now' 'luckily my dad told me how to make a tree house, he was a builder after all' after a few hours. I moved everything up to the treehouse. 'This is actually the best I've done!' 'I killed a few animals and used its fur as my bed!' I tucked myself in and went to sleep. The next morning. I went down to ground level. Time to find more food before I could make a map somehow. 'more snakes!' I killed them and then I cooked them over the fire 'I wonder how they taste boiled?' I got some water from the lake. I cleaned it as much as I could. My mum taught me how to clean lake water. Sewer water. e.t.c then I carved out a pot out of stone from underground. Then I filled the pot with water and put the fire underneath the pot, then I skinned the snake and boiled it. It tastes nice. Not as good as under the fire but. It was good. Then a few hours later. It was evening I was trying to find a way to how to make a map. And understand. Luckily I had my phone on me. And it had internet for itself. So I could figure out how and where. Then I finally made a map! I came back to my treehouse and slept. The next morning I woke up and took my stuff. I kinda took a few snakes as well. Then I was walking with my map. I was in the desert there was wind it blew my map away from my hands! 'oh no!' 'i'm stuck in the desert!' 'could this get any worse?!' Then I saw. Infront of me. A pyramid! There was an entrance. I walked inside.then I saw skeletons! Shooting at me!. 'ahhh!' I shot back at them. 'pew...' 'I was nearly dead' I better rest and sit down to try take this arrow out of my shoulder. It was painful. But it healed a few hours later. I was walking up the stairs. 'I never knew. The pyramids had stairs.' 'dead end!' I saw some water and a whole at the end 'Seriously! I have to go underwater?, here goes nothing!' I held my breath And went through the hole. I gasped for air. 'I got out of there.' then. I saw.. lava parkour "why!?!? I have to jump from stones to stones? ON LAVA!?! 'man I hope I make it.' 'agh! Its so hot in here' 'woahh!' I lost balance and nearly tripped. Luckily I have gripping shoes. 'oh my god' 'that was so close' I made it. 'the next room?' 'ahh! Cobwebs everywhere! Huge spiders!' 'I shot at the spiders' 'ew! The blood looks so disgusting!' 'ahhh!' there were more stairs. I walked up them. 'ugh. It just leads to a wall with a torch!' 'im trapped here!' I leaned against the torch I heard a button noise 'huh? What was tha—' 'ahhh!!!!' 'oof!' 'my head hurts!' 'huh?' It was a room. With shelves. There were chests in the shelves. I looked in the chests. 'armor?' 'I think there's gonna be a boss battle or something' I walked up more stairs. 'AHHHHH!' 'WHAT IS THAT!?!?!?!?' I put my armor on and shot at it whatever it was. 'AHHHHHH!' 'DIE! DIE! DIE! DIE!' 'AAAHHHHHHHHHH!' 'IM TO YOUNGGGGG!' It died. 'wow. That boss was so over powered!' 'look! The exit!' 'theres a cart. Finally. My legs feel like jelly!' I got out of the pyramid. 'okay. Never again.' 'ah! look! My map!' 'it blew here!' I picked up my map and walked. I finally made it out of the desert for a few hours maybe. 1 or 2.

'okay. So I made it to...somewhere. There's an ocean and a boat. Maybe this could lead somewhere!' I got on the boat and I set off. 'huh...why is the boat getting so wobbly?' 'WOAH!' 'no no no! A whirlpool! I don't wanna die like this!' I got sucked into the whirlpool and the boat broke and sank I couldn't breathe. I thought this was the way I die. But. There's an air tank and a suit in the boat! I saw it! I grabbed it and put it on. 'pew. That was close!' I saw something in the distance. 'wh-..what was that?...' 'AHHHH! KRAKEN!' 'SWIM! SWIM! SWIM!' 'AHHHH!' 'PLEASE!' I hid behind a rock. 'oh my god...' the kraken swam past me 'I Gotta get out of here!' I swam. 'whats this? An underwater temple?' 'this better not have a boss battle' 'huh? Its a maze' I swam back and forward. 'I don't have much air left!' 'better hurry up to shore' 'AHHH! WHAT IS THAT!' 'IT LOOKS LIKE A WATER ZOMBIE OR SOME SORT' 'AUEGHHH! ITS HIDEOUS' I shot at it 'DIE!' 'pew...It died. But there's a hole above me' 'ill explore!' And it was... 'A BOSS?!' 'SERIOUSLY!?!' 'DIE!' I shot arrows at it. There was a sword. I grabbed it and threw it at its eye it roared 'AUEGHHHHH!' I shot at it again. Repeatingly 'AUEGHHH! AUEGH!' It died. It dropped fish. 'oh god. That was a weird battle' 'oh no! Gotta get out of here! 'My air is running out!' 'I SEE THE EXIT!' I ran out of air. I held my breathe. I didn't think I was gonna made it. Before I couldn't hold my breath anymore. I made it to the surface. I gasped for air 'oh my god! That was so risky!' 'but look. Shore!' I breathed in and out fast. Then I started to slow down. It was sunrise I was stranded on an island! I might as well stay here and then when I find out where to go I will set off. To find more people. A few days later. I already had shelter. I ate coconuts and bananas they were pretty good to be honest. I found out how to make a boat. When I was gonna set off. I heard a voice 'WAIT!' 'huh?...' I couldn't believe my eyes. After days. weeks. months. I finally found...A human! 'I walked to him' 'he walked to me' when we were looking at eachother. I was crying tears of joy. He smiled 'I thought. I was the last one..' I said 'me to' said the boy 'well...my names...Lloyd' (I forgot her name so I changed it) 'nice name.' He said scratching his head looking in the other direction but with his face facing me. 'my names.. Riley.' 'thats a really cute name..' I said blushing a little. I know I just met him but..hey. he would be nice to hang out with. We spent a few months on the island. We hung out. And we made our house bigger and bigger. When it was time to leave. We set off on the boat. And waved to our mansion made out of bamboo and wood. 'hey..' We both said at the same time. We giggled 'sorry riley..' 'its okay.' 'but I have to tell you something..' 'me to riley...' 'but- y-you first...' 'Lloyd...I..- I really..like you...' 'If I haven't met you..I wouldn't be the happiest person I am today..you made me feel like im not alone..you were always there for me...I didn't know that I would've caught feelings for you...' 'Riley...I..I really like you back...I was gonna tell you the same...your so sweet...' 'Lloyd...I...' he hugged me tight and kissed me on the cheek 'Im really glad I met you...' 'Im really glad I met you to Riley...' I hugged him back. And then we made it back home....he asked me to be his girlfriend. We got married. And we got children. And then the cycle went on again....I became a teacher. He became a dentist.

And that kids..Is how we bought the earth back to life.

wow! Your so cool miss Lloyd! I love your stories!

The Very Boring Teacher

Hi my name is Alexa and I will be telling you what happened on the first day of school. So what happened was that when I went to school my teacher looked a bit weird first. My teacher looked kinda tired. She also looked angry as well. I was so scared to talk to her but I also wanted to talk to her as well. She told us to sit down. The teacher sound tired. She did the roll but did not talk much. Mostly all teachers are energetic but my teacher was not really energetic. She told us to do free writing in our books. We walked over to the books. My teacher slept. That was why she sound tired and looked tired. I finished one big sentence. I went up to my teacher, her name was Miss Steward. Miss Steward kinda got angry when I woke her up. But at least I gave her my work. The rest of the class handed their work. Miss Steward woke up from her sleep and marked our works. After work Miss Steward made us read a book about planets. But I did really like to read about planets because planets was my favourite topic. I was almost up to the sun but the teacher rang the bell because we had to sit on the floor. Miss Steward made us do SLEEPING LOGS when we weren't even that tired! We did have a very boring teacher. It was time for recess. I had some doritoes and a juice box. The bell rang. I dashed outside for the oval but I had to wait for the teacher. Miss Steward was on duty I went duty with her. The bell rang for me I didn't really think Miss Steward was boring at all. My classmates went to class. The classroom phone rang, I went to go get it. It was the office they told me I had to go home early. I packed my bag. I went with two other people to the office. My mum was waiting for me. I ran up to my mum to give a big hug. And that was the end of my story when I had a boring teacher. The end wasn't really that boring. Bye I have to eat dinner.

WW2 D-Day

Everyone is on the ship and everyone is scared. I met some good buddies on the ship. There's this guy named Zussman. I hated him at first. Now, he's probably the bestest friend I have and it was now time for us to raid...then we lowered the boats on to the water then we climbed down a rope down to the boats. We were going to Omaha beach and then the MG was firing at everyone. A lot of people were dying. Me and my four friends were scared. We had to run and take cover because the MG was firing at us. Then, I reached the C wall. I put the Bangalore on the wall and it exploded. Then we all rush in, as if it was the end of the world. I fired my gun at people for the first time in my life, but I knew I had to do it. Then we pushed the Germans causing them to go back. Americans were dying. Our sergeant told us to clear the bunkers which had MGs in it. If you don't know what that is, it's a gun that can shoot a lot of ammo and the Germans were shooting it.

We cleared them out. Then, our sergeant told us to clear the last bunker. We did. There were Germans outside the bunker. We had to... well... you know... make them go sleep. Then we went in the bunker. My heart dropped.. there was a German with a gun and he was literally fighting me. My friend Zussman went to come help me as he charged at the German. The German pulled out a knife. He stabbed my friend. I felt rage inside but also scared because he had a knife. I grabbed his arm trying to not let him stab me. Then, I flipped him over and punched him once. I looked over my shoulder and then saw a helmet. I grabbed it and I smashed his head with it. I made him... well... go to sleep. I went over to my friend Zussman and helped him as the Germans were shooting at the bunker. I saw a hole that would lead out side. I dragged my friend through the hole, there were Germans out side to. I shot them with my pistol instead of my M1 Grand gun because I could only use one arm. One was to drag my friend one was to shoot. "WE GOTTA GET OVER TO THAT CCP I yelled. We went over there and there was a medic there. My lieutenant was also there. The medic said "I've got this, GO". I did. And it was the end of D-Day, I was happy there was no more shooting but... the war wasn't over yet. There was still a lot of war to go.

Show not tell

I am hungry-

My stomach grumbled and swelled with emptiness. My body had been craving the food nearby. The scent of multiple food makes my mouth drool. I'm desperate for nay food I can't get at the moment. My body is starting to weaken and I feel even more overworked than before. People walked by with hot food in their hands, I feel a badge and jealousy overcomes me. My face scrunches up.

I feel sad-

My heart tightens, my feelings swell up, my face turns into the colour of a fresh strawberry. People start talking happily, I couldn't help but feel different. I wanted to feel what they were feeling, happy. I run away from my thoughts in my mind but I'm trapped. I try to escape but my feelings keep coming back. I Start having a break down. I just couldn't escape. I let tears roll down my face as I look at my surroundings. I hide from all I see and let everything I've been keeping in out. I feel all of my energy has been drained out of me and nothings left.

Poem about myself

My eyes are like a scanner programmed to scan and take in everything I see. Every new thing I see I try and figure out what it is and when I do I try to relate it to other things.

My ears are as able to listen as spider man with his Spidey senses. When I hear something important I try to focus on that voice and listen.

My brain is as thoughtful as the animal at the bottom of the food chain taking a risk. When I scan things with my eyes it goes to my brain which does all the thinking.

My nose is as able to take in smells as any other Year 6 can. I'm not really good at smelling things but I really don't mind.

My heart is as caring as a dog loyal to his owner. I like to have friends and people to talk too because I like the feeling I get when I do something with my friends.

My hair is as messy as a surfer after he got caught in a wave. It is also sometimes as neat as a groomed dog. My hair can be messy or neat. Messy on the school holidays and on the weekend. Neat when I have to go to school.

THE FUTURE

The city was new and the robots were blue. There was only few, but they grew and grew. When the robots were near the birds were in fear! So the birds flew and flew but the robots still knew, that they flew to the zoo. So the robots were lured which was quite absurd.

They saw spare parts of robot arms then they got alarmed. They were trapped and rapped in metal and steel and all they can hear is the laughing seals. So the robots said they will do anything to leave so the birds pulled up their suit sleeves and the birds said pick up the leaves! So from then on the robots were slaved and the birds were safely saved. So next time when you're at the zoo look for cleaning robot dressed in blue.

What My Mother Didn't Teach Me

"A mother is the one who can take the role of others but whose role no one else can take."

When a child grows up, he/she first learns to be independent, kids are taught to do their things without anyone's help. I remember when I was small, I could not solve my hair tangles on my own, I could not tie my shoe laces nor could I ever wear my shirt without talking my earring off!

One day, as always, I couldn't untangle my hair, out of frustration, I called my mother and asked her to help me to do it, the only thing I remember her saying was, "Today after school, I want to tell you something."

I was excited for the first time like they show in movies, my mom wanted to talk to me about something serious! All day long I waited for the school to get over. As soon as I went home the first question, I asked her was what she wanted to tell me, she replied, "Come along."

She took out two baskets, one small and one big, then she said,

"Catie, this small basket is yours and this big basket is mine. As you see, I have put the smaller basket in the bigger one. This is because, as of now you are my responsibility and I do all of your things, but you know as you grow up, you have to do things on your own, so I take this small basket out of this big one, and I take chits and write the things which you can not do on your own on the big basket.

As soon as you learned how to do these things, the chits will be out of the big basket into the small one. Then there will be a day, when there will be no chits at all in the big basket. That day you will be called independent!"

I clapped my hands in excitement; this idea had posed an immense challenge at me. I wanted to move all the chits from the big basket to the small one as soon as possible. Every day I learned something new and simultaneously the chit came out of the basket. Days went by, and one day there was finally no chits in the big basket, I went to my mom and showed her the empty basket. She happily told me that now I was independent and I could do things on my own. But there was one more thing she added to it, she told me that whenever you need to talk to your mom, you can always do it and how she will always be with me. Those words struck in my mind. I realised how much ever I grow up and become independent; at every stage of my life I need my mother. Just because my mother taught me how to do things on my own, that doesn't mean I won't go and tell her how my day was, how I am doing, how every time I needed motivation from her. Those words of her taught me how to have the constant determination of never giving up in my life. That day I realized, I need my mom at each and every stage of my life. That time I told her something which made her wipe her tears and hug me tight, that was

"But Mom, you didn't teach me how to live without you.....!!!"

Year 5/6

Elusive

"Oh, My MONSTERS!" came a loud shriek from the left corridor. Feet collided with the soft, scarlet, silk rug. "What?" A voice came from a broad oak doorway roared looking immeasurably agitated. "I can't believe we have to go to school to 'enhance' ourselves! I think our parents are losing it" The tall teen with blue hair as bright as the blissful sky argued. She also consisted of the most piecing soft sapphire eyes. The teen sat inside a sombre room, curtains closed, on top of a visible white couch, shrieking! "They're not the only ones..." The figure that leant against the broad, oak doorway mumbled incoherently. The figure stepped into the common room cautiously, as if there were traps set out. The mysterious figure went over to the satin gold curtains and pulled them to each respected side. This revealed the figure to be an average height teen with beautiful, beaming, blond hair. Her eyes were a stunning, shining, shade of hazel.

"Have you seen the 'oh so translucent windows in the bedrooms'" The blue-eyed girl mocked her mother with a scowled glare, consisting of a scrunched-up nose and squinted eyes.

"Are you being real?" the brunette questionably mumbled, more to herself than others, "oh yes the 'oh so translucent windows in the bedrooms' are just divine dear." The brunette bantered back sarcastically in her best 'mother tone'. "Ah, never do that voice ever again!" The blue-eyed girl whimpered horrified, causing the brunette to collapse in laughter. Seeing this made the blue-eyed girl to send a death glare and pout to the brunette's way. Seeing she successfully caused the blue-eyed girl irritation, the brunette skipped away toward the white, walled, hall with a smile that travelled from ear to ear. "You don't understand my pain Stephanie! YOU DON'T UNDERSTAND IT!" The blue-eyed girl screeched down the hall. Hearing this, Stephanie scrunched her nose and silently cowering.

As Stephanie was stopping away to her respective room there was something in there.

It was the abandoned room which was allocated for storage, but the girls were too scared to actually put anything in it. There was a cold chill illuminating the dark, droopy door. It made Stephanie stop dead in her tracks. She took one step closer to the abandoned room, left of the small apartment. She noticed there was a small beam of light coming from the space between the door and the wall... 'I don't remember there being any windows in that room...' Stephanie thought with a slight shiver. Then it went dark, lights flickered on and off, there was a silent ring in the hallway. Then it stopped. Stephanie shook off the feeling that was slowly haunting her and quickly scurried to her room.

A meanwhile later once the blue-eyed girl had calmed down, she asked Stephanie, or more affectionally known as 'Steph'. "Hey do you want to grab a bite at Fang & Bite?" Steph bit her lip, and glanced up to the roof. Ultimately, she agreed and both walked across the large school campus towards a petite café located at the east wing of the school.

The front of the café was illuminated with a white neon sign that read 'Fang & Bite', accented with blinking, bright, blue fairy lights. The building looked like it was made of limestone and brick. While vintage, still had hints of modern chic accenting the sign and doorframe. The limestone and brick seemed to be painted with blunt, baby, blue paint. The blue-eyed girl and Steph both walked into the café, arms interlaced. Steph gawked around at her surroundings and saw that the walls were a cream white, accented with many paintings framed in gold. The tables and chairs were a dusky, ebony, black while on top, each table had its own special centrepiece. One had an artificial plant, another a small porcelain ballerina.

As Steph was admiring the scene around her, while the blue-eyed girl wasted no time to walk up to the barista. "Hello can I please get 2 'Crawly Cakes' and 2 large cups of 'Risen Latte's'." The blue-eyed girl asked. The barista nodded and punched in the order into the computer in front of her. "Under what name?" She asked, taking 2 large cups on her left, not even looking up from the cups.

"Dylan," the blue-eyed girl smiled contently. Dylan walked over to Steph and tapped her on the shoulder. "Hey earth to Steph. Anything in there?" Dylan teased as she walked over to the corner table with a wink. Steph replied with a stuck-out tongue and a pout. "Hey I thought you were 17." Dylan asked incredulously.

"Yeah, yea." Steph shrugged unfazed. Moments after this playful exchange, a newly acquainted voice shouted out, "Dylan, 2 'Crawly Cakes' and 2 'Risen Latte's'."

Both girls walked up to the marble counter top, took their food and walked out onto a nearby park bench.

As both were silent, they took a good glance around. Incredulously the world seemed to stop... Whispers started. "Dearie help us." One cried.

"You're in trouble! Hurry!" Another one whimpered.

Soon the air became thick like mist covering a waterfall. The day turned to dusk. The glow of the moon reflected onto the small water fountain. The birds flew away faster than a race car trying to win it's 50th world cup. People around them sprinted for their lives. There... left by themselves. Dylan and Steph sat, eyes widened, faces flushed, hands twitching, legs trembling begging to run. It was as if time itself was keeping them there. They felt the same emotion like they were on a huge emotional, emulsifying, eerie roller coaster. Left in complete silence...

As Dylan stood up and Steph opened her mouth to say something... Then... BOOM.

Year 5/6

HIDDEN IN PLAIN SIGHT

BANG! The classroom door swung open. The whole class turned to see two bodyguards standing in the doorway. Their arms were as big as an elephant's trunk.

Elle turned to look at her best friend, Harlow. Harlow had been Elle's best friend since grade 4.

'What's going on?' Elle mouthed.

Harlow shrugged. The bodyguards moved out of the doorway and a girl with strawberry blonde hair walked in.

She was wearing jewellery as golden and shiny as the sun.

"OMG ITS SADIE BROWN!!!" Shouted Harlow.

The whole class flung off their seats and ran towards the girl, Sadie. The bodyguards pushed everyone back. Now everyone was as scared as a bird when it sees a cat. Elle was one of the only people in the classroom sitting down. The only other person was the smartest person in the school and Elle's oldest friend, Theodore Johnson. Elle got up but didn't go to see what everyone was fussing about. Instead she walked over to Theodore. Elle didn't really talk to Theodore much anymore but they had been friends since kindergarten.

"Hey Theo, what you up to?"

Theodore looked up from his computer.

"Quick quick look at this!"

Elle expected a 'Hi' or 'Hey' but she still bent down to see what Theo was looking at.

On the screen was a photo of Sadie brown and a title saying 'Why you shouldn't trust Sadie Brown...'

Elle was as confused as a puppy when it arrives at a new house.

"What is this?"

"Ugh Elle, do you ever read?"

"No, well only sometimes."

"Well basically lots of people have put up information about Sadie Brown on websites. When you search up her name it comes up with a bunch on websites with warnings about Sadie."

"Like what?"

"Well most of them say that she goes to places all around the world including stores, houses, famous landmarks and schools. They also say not to welcome her or show her around because she could be spying. Apparently, she has small microphones and cameras attached to her.

There was a silence before Elle whispered "So why is that so bad?"

"Well when she brings the recordings home, she posts them on an undercover account and exposes lots of people. I would suggest that you and Harlow stay away from her unless you want to be exposed."

Elle turned around to tell everyone what Theo had just told her but everyone was gone.

"Uh Theo, where did everyone go, I could've sworn they were here a few seconds ago."

Tucker Forrest, the most popular kid in school, walked in. He was usually followed by a crowd but everyone was with Sadie Brown instead.

"I'm pretty sure they followed Sadie outside."

"Tucker?" Elle said, heart beating after Tucker scared her.

"That's me, oh and by the way I'm not going to be around the popular group anymore!" Tucker said happily.

He seemed as buzzy as a bee in the summer.

Tucker had been on a vacation for the past 2 months. But he hadn't spoken to Elle, Harlow and Theo for 7 months because he became 'too popular for them'. Tucker always wanted to stay friends with the others but the popular group said they were too nerdy and were a bad influence on Tucker.

"Tucker we need to tell you about-" Theo didn't get to finish.

"About Sadie Brown, I know, I heard everything and I think we need to go get Harlow."

"Yeah I agree, we don't want her to get hurt." said Elle, looking worried.

"Come on we need to warn the school!" said Tucker as they turned around.

Everybody froze... Behind them was one of the bodyguards, he must have heard everything.

Then it went dark... It was as dark as the night sky. It went silent and nobody knew what was happening...
